Message from the President of Shanti Mitra

I am very much delighted to know that the one and half yearly report of fiscal year 2019-2020 is going to be published in June, 2021. Shanti Mitra started its journey since year of 2007 in Mymensingh with the initiative of some young men and women studying in different colleges and in collaboration with Mennonite Central Committee Bangladesh (MCC). From the very beginning, the goal of Shanti Mitra was to establish peace and work for the transformation of conflict. The young men and women decided to work in Mymensingh city, especially in the slum areas. First started it's working with fourth and fifth grade students in three primary schools in the city.

Shanti Mitra is implementing some project to achieve the goal of this organization. The Peace Education, Women's Peace Building Project, Promoting and Protecting Human Rights of minority people etc are the project of this organization. Beside these projects and activities, the organization publish some books and publications they are the series of peace role model, Sada Paira (white dove)- a little magazine, training manual /module and the inspirational story books for children.

Now the organization works mainly with children, young people and women. Presently, the world is facing so many problems. Message of Executive Director

This report presents the overview of Shanti Mitra activities implemented during the period of July 2019 to December 2020. We are pleased to share our activities, learning, challenges and collective growth with you all. We apologize, we could not release the report on time due to various reasons. But we are glad that despite all the adversity, we have finally been able to publish the report.

In 2020, the world went through a difficult time due to the Covid-19 situation. Many people around the world have been infected with this virus and many people have died. Many have been lost their job during the pandemic.

Even in such a difficult situation, we have been able to reach 7000 (approximately) people. During the covid period, we have worked in accordance with the hygiene rules and have been able to reach out to the people. Most of our beneficiaries are marginalized people, their suffering was exacerbated during this pandemic. Many of our beneficiaries are dependent on daily income so their lives become very difficult during lockdown. We have been able to provide food assistance to 200 people through donor agencies and staff contributions. Although the number is very low but still, we are happy that we were able to help some.

The students have suffered the most during this time. Due to the closure of schools and colleges, the students were much isolated from their studies. Frustration has been created among the youth. We have organized workshops or sharing sessions for the young people on various topics including mental health through online platforms so that they can keep themselves busy and engage in creative work. During the lockdown, we contacted the beneficiaries on the phone regularly to know their situation. In addition, during this pandemic, awareness has been provided on various issues including wearing masks and hygiene. We have seen an increase in the incidence of violence and rape against women during the Covid period. In 2020, we have conducted human chain and various awareness activities against it.

I would like to say my heartfelt gratitude to our donors, partners, board, staff and volunteers for their great support and contribution during this reporting period. Your support gives us courage and hope to continuing our work for better world.

I hope, the situation we are facing right now for covid-19 pandemic will end soon and will return to normal life.

A glance about Shanti Mitra

Shanti Mitra Somaj Kolyan Songstha is a local non-profit organization and registered by Social Welfare Ministry of Bangladesh. Reg no-M-01886. It was founded in April 2007. Shanti Mitra means Friends of Peace and it works for peace building & conflict transformation through art and dialogue. Shanti Mitra mainly works with children, young people and women. It also has some activities for the wider community to spread the message of Justpeace.

Our history

In 2007 some young people, mainly students from colleges in Mymensingh, decided to do something to build peace. They received inspiration and support from Taize brothers who are living locally. When they first started, they were all volunteers. They went to poor areas of the town where different kinds of conflicts in families and in the communities are prevalent.

They started with children because they believe if children learn peace building skills the patterns of conflict they experience will not be repeated in the future. They started peace classes in the schools in those neighborhoods using creative methods like puppet shows, drama and role plays. They also talked with the children about their experience of conflict and how they can handle these non-violently.

The group was from different faiths (Muslims, Hindus and Christian) and also from different ethnic groups (Bangali, Garo, Hajong etc.) They share a common vision for peace. They started to work in order to bridge the gap of trust between different faiths and ethnics groups.

Sumona, student of class-4, who receives regular peace class

From the beginning when Shanti Mitra established, we have provided peace education in primary schools. Peace education is an education where children can learn moral dignity, develop values and learn how-to live-in harmony with differences and all creation. Through this program we provide monthly peace classes to fourth and fifth grade students in primary schools.

From July 2019 to December 2019, we were able to conduct peace classes in schools. But we were not able to continue the peace class in 2020 as the school-college was closed due to the cowardly situation.

Promoting and Protecting Human Rights of Minorities Project

Lamia and her friends are leading a campaign against Child marriage at Bihari Camp

Shanti Mitra works for the human rights for minorities in Mymensingh Sadar. Last four years (2017-2020), we worked with three community people such as Bihari, Horijon and Bin or Guala to promote the education and human rights through PPHRM project. It's a project of PCC and implementing by Shanti Mitra. Under this four-year project, we have provided monthly financial assistance to 60 adolescent girls every year for their education. We have given regular workshops on human rights, child rights, gender, values and life skills etc. for the adolescent's girls. In addition to these activities, the project also includes awareness workshops with parents and community members, advocates and dialogue with community members and creative human rights activities.

Educational institutions have been closed since March 2020 due to the Covid situation. Due to the lockdown announced by the government and to prevent infection, all our activities have to be suspended for about three months. But there was communication has been made time to time with the girls, parents and community leaders. During lock down, adolescents are suggested to keep them mentally healthy by doing and learning new and creative things.

Due to the Covid-19 situation, many parents of the adolescents' girls lost their job and some could not earn because of lock down and some peoples' salaries have been reduced. Two times food support have been distributed to the 60 adolescent's girls in the pandemic situation.

With the Covid situation in 2020, cases of violence against women and rape are on the rise. Adolescents have received training and awareness on gender and child rights issues and have become vocal in the past year. They made some campaign against these issues through posters at various times in communities to raise awareness. Human chain was organized against rape, sexual harassment and violence against women.

Moving forward on the path of dreams

Sayma Akter reads in class ten in Mymensingh high School. She has two sisters and one brother. Her father and brother work in a salon as a barber. Her mother is a house wife. Sayma is a member of Mukto Bihongo Adolescents Human Rights Center. She receives monthly stipend for her study and regular session on human rights, child rights, values and life skills from the PPHRM project.

"I was very shy and feel fear to speak to others. I didn't go outside so much for that reason. My neighbors discouraged me to continue the study as they think education is not so important for a girl. They also mentioned the ultimate destination of girl is father-in-law's house & work in kitchen. So, they asked my mother when they (my parents) are going to give my marriage. I was disappointed to hear such negative speech and lost interest in study. In that situation, I started to believe that they are right. I forgot to dream but at that time I involve with PPHRM project." said Sayma.

Sayma Akter

Sayma added "I started to discover myself after joining in regular session by PPHRM project. I learned that everyone is valuable. Everyone has the right to education and to have a good life. Day by day, I learned more about the human rights and child rights. From the session of values- I have learned about the anger management, cooperation, empathy, nonviolence communication, leadership, listening, positive attitude, celebrating the diversity etc. This all learning's help me to develop myself. I am more confident and courageous now. Now I can speak confidently in public. To see other girls in the group, I also inspired to increase my attentiveness in my study. I know that how important is education for a girl."

Afsana Mimi, friend of Sayma said "She was too afraid to speak in front of others in the session. But now she becomes more confident and courageous. She speaks and shares confidently in the session now. Even she is volunteering as a teacher in an adult literacy class in our community. Sayma also involves in different social works of the communities."

Mother of Sayma said "Saima shares regularly her learning from the session with me. Even if any neighbors discouraged about girl's education Saima replied them about the importance of education very politely. I am happy with my daughter. I wasn't able to continue my study, but I want her to go far."

Sayma dreams to be doctor to serve the poor people. Saima is grateful for the PPHRM project because she has been able to continue her studies and discover new meaning of life.

Women's Peace Building

We work with women to help them become peace builders in Mymensingh Sador through Women's Peace Building project partnering with Mennonite Central Committee Bangladesh. There is widespread domestic violence against women and discrimination in the family and community. Women often do not have chance to speak out for their rights and are not allowed to participate in decision making in the family as well as in the community.

Women receive regular peace training which help them to improve and develop their capacity as a peacebuilder in the family and community. Our main goal is to improve the situation of women and develop them as peace builders.

Due to the Corona situation we had to close our activities with women from March to May in 2020. But they were contacted regularly by phone. Many of the women involved in the project worked as maids in other homes, and many of their husbands work as ricksha puller and worked as hawkers. But many lost their jobs due to the lockdown announced by the government due to Covid-19. Shanti Mitra has stood by providing food aid to the families of women at this difficult time.

Women have received training and workshops on peace building and conflict transformation, as well as human rights, child rights, domestic violence, and non-violent communication. Various income generating trainings have been provided to make women economically self-sufficient through linkages with various organizations. In the year 2020, various educational assistance was provided to the children of women with the collaboration of MCC.

A new beginning for a better life

Mahmuda Akter is a member of Women's Peace Building Project. After passing SSC (Secondary School Certificate) in 2016, she got married to Mohammad Arif at the age of 18. Md. Arif is an employee of a clothes shop in Basabari Bazar. Her parents were very poor and not aware of the evils of child marriage. There are eight members in Mahmuda's family. She has a three-year-old son.

Mahmuda realizes the difference between student life and married life after marriage. After marriage, her education was stopped. She becomes busy with domestic work. She started to feel that there is no freedom in domestic life. She felt like a captive person in prison. It seems like a bird with broken wings. She started to think that there is no life beyond the family life. At that time, she is involved in the peace building project of Shanti Mitra. It introduced her with the new arena of life.

Mahmuda Akter

‘After joining as member in WPB project, I started to engage in the different activities of the project. I learnt many things from various sessions. I discovered my inner power. I learned about importance of Environment Care, cooperation & Empathy, Family relationship, we are all valuable, Conflict Transformation, Equity, Rights, Child rights & Child protection, etc. Especially, after attending in “WE ARE VALUABLE session”- I realized that every human being is unique and has power within self. I try to practice my learning in my daily life. I visit patient house in the community with our group, assist in different social activities individually and collectively, provide good advice to others, concern for children, honor of all profession etc’ said Mahmuda.

Mahmuda mentioned that, her awareness increased on child protection after attending in the workshop on child rights and child protection. Now she is not only taking care of her own child but also take care of others children. Mahmuda is very careful not to let anything bad happen to the children.

She added that her courage in expressing her views has increased through her participation in the session. Now she is expressing her views on various decisions of family and society. She has even been able to convince her husband of the need and importance of her academic education. As a result, she was able to resume her studies.

She mentioned, the activities of women peace building project helped me for arousing my dormant power and confidence. Now she is determined to accomplish her higher education and continuing her efforts to fulfill her desire. And she thinks that, it's a new beginning for a better life.

Living together in Peace (LTP)

During Interfaith Harmony Journey- November, 2020

Since the beginning, Shanti Mitra has worked to promote inter-religious harmony among people of different faiths. Living Together in Peace is one of the projects of Shanti Mitra. The project works with young people of different faiths to build harmony and friendship as well as working with religious leaders to build a peaceful community.

The project has been called Promoting Interreligious Harmony Through Dialogue since 2017, but was later renamed Living Together in Peace in 2020. Resonate Global Mission has been collaborating for this project from very beginning.

During this reporting period, the project organizes monthly inter-religious dialogues with different faith young people, inter-religious harmony journey, Inter-religious harmony campaign with students, song festivals, workshops with teachers etc. Although other activities are closed due to covid-19 in March-May, 2021, inter-religious dialogue is regulated using online platforms.

Story of Mamun Sarker

Mamun Sarker is a regular member of interfaith dialogue group. He is Muslim. He is studying in university.

Mamun said, "I have been involved in inter-religious session since 2018. It is a program which I like very much. Shanti Mitra organizes inter-religious dialogue for youth from different religions once a month. In this session we read verses from each different religion on a specific topic and share our understanding on verses.

The most important thing in this inter-religious dialogue is to listen and understand the words of different scriptures with compassion without any judgment. At beginning, it was not easy. But surprisingly, by participating in dialogue sessions, I have also seen some changes in myself.

The most important thing in this inter-religious dialogue is to listen and understand the words of different scriptures with compassion without any judgment.

Attending in inter-religious dialogue session was helpful to come out from my stereotype and prejudices on other religions. Also, I have been able to improve my listening skills. At the same time, I have been inspired to be more caring about my own religion and to be respectful of other religions.

This world is the home of all of us and it is possible to create a harmonious society through friendship and brotherhood with each other.

Peace Worker Development Program

Peace and development work is a core program of Shanti Mitra. From the beginning, Shanti Mitra has worked with young people and supported them to become peace builders in the community. Shanti Mitra provides a monthly stipend for more 30 young people every year and trains them through regular workshops, trainings, mentoring, and reflections as well as providing them the opportunity to do practical peace work in the community. This program has the slogan "If you receive for free, give something for free".

During a workshop with young people

Everybody can be great because anybody can serve. You don't have to have a college degree to serve. You don't have to make your subject and verb agree to serve. You only need a heart to full of grace. A soul generated by love.

- Martin Luther King

Monthly financial assistance has been provided to 30 college- university going students for their education during this reporting period. Besides, training workshops have been provided on various topics. Notable are non-violent communication, positive thinking, gender and development, etc. Also, these students assisted in various programs of Shanti Mitra. When everything was shut down due to a lockdown announced by the government in March 2020, Shanti Mitra kept in regular contact with the students through phone calls. Shanti Mitra involved them to various creative activities using the online platform during lockdown. Besides, workshops on mental health are provided to the youth to raise awareness on that issue.

My Journey as Peace Worker

Written by Nazmul Haque Sarker

I am Nazmul Haque Sarker. I'm working as a Field Facilitator (PERM Project) in Shanti Mitra. At first in 2013, I joined as a member of Peace friends' group of Shanti Mitra. I was attended in a 3 days long peace seminar which was organized by Shanti Mitra in 2014. Hence, I was so curious to the activities of the Shanti Mitra so I expressed my keen interest to work with Shanti Mitra and at last started my career as a facilitator since February 2015.

I have participated in many activities and various sessions after joining in Shanti Mitra, such as-session on peace, anger management, conflict resolution, sympathy, caring environment etc that I have never heard before and these sessions influenced my thinking and life positively. After participating in workshops and other sessions – I have developed my knowledge and thoughts. Moreover, I had practiced my learning in my practical life and got many benefits. Then I disseminated my learning & messages of peace conducting peace class & assisting to organize various workshops on peace which are help me to handle my responsibility for being as good a facilitator of PPHRM project.

I started my journey since 2017 as a facilitator in PPHRM project and served for the Katakhal and Binpara community who are the followers of Sonaton (Hinduism). Initially I was serving for the adolescent girls of that community. At first, I had some doubts about working in the Hindu community as a Muslim. I was very worried about whether they would accept me easily or not. However, I did not lose my confidence and I continue my work cordially. Beginning of the project, the parents did not want to send their daughters considering my young age and religion. The office authority helps me to overcome the situation. I have tried my best to get their positive impression and trust on me through my attitude and behavior.

I have done regular family visits and conversations with parents and community people, doing session and many activities which were project related. After that the adolescent and parents gradually started to receive me easily and I was able to gain community people trust on me. Now the adolescent and their parents and community people invite me to joining in different events of community. At the beginning, I observed the community people were not conscious about education and their rights. Most of the people did not send their children in the school and did not continue study of their children. The parents arranged early marriage of their daughters when they just complete their primary education or while studying in high school. But now they have learned on child rights, demerits of early marriage, human rights etc. Now the community people, do not arrange early marriage rather they are cooperating to continuing study of their children. In addition, they are now sincere to take care of environment.

I facilitate the session but I have also learned from adolescents and community people. I have learned about their social and life system, their needs and their struggle for life. I realized that there are many things to do for the development of this community. I believe that, if we want to develop our country then we should work with underprivileged people.

I am conveying my gratitude to the authority of Shanti Mitra for support me and giving opportunity to work with this under privilege community and for giving me the scope for learning.

I hope to continue to work for a peaceful world & society in future too.
